

Feature

Top 50 essentials

TOP ESSENTIAL 18

Jabra BT205 £27.95
www.expansys.com

One of the most popular headsets around, and with good reason. It's small, light, comfortable and has great sound quality. The undisputed champion of Bluetooth headsets.

TOP ESSENTIAL 17

SD Card with built-in USB £69.95
www.proporta.com

Ignore the hilariously translated instructions, the SD Card with built-in USB works exactly as advertised, moving data from USB port to SD card slot and back again without third-party intervention. At 2GB, it should keep users happy.

TOP ESSENTIAL 16

Just Mobile SDIO WLAN Card 802.11g £50
www.mobis.com.tw

802.11g is nearly five times faster than the 'b' variety most common in PDAs. And even if you have wi-fi already you can add this card as an upgrade. Protruding just five millimetres from the SD slot, it is also one of the smallest around.

TOP ESSENTIAL 15

ANYCOM General Audio Gateway £45.95
www.meroncourt.co.uk

Connect the GAG to any device with a 3.5mm headphone socket and you can stream audio via Bluetooth to a pair of ANYCOM BSH-100 headphones. Small enough to be mobile, but you can plug it into your TV or computer as well.

TOP ESSENTIAL 14

Bush TR2015WIFI Internet Radio £119.99
www.albapl.com

Listen to radio from around the world wherever there is a wireless hotspot. Giving you access to over 2,500 stations covering all content imaginable, this Internet radio works via your in-home wi-fi connection.

TOP ESSENTIAL 13

Belkin N1 Wireless Router £100
www.belkin.com

Sharing your broadband connection throughout your home means you not only have access to streaming media from your PC, Internet radio or Pocket Skype, but can also shop online etc. The N1 also supports the new 802.11n standard.

TOP ESSENTIAL 12

ThinkOutside Stowaway Sierra Keyboard £82.95
www.thinkoutside.com

The original Stowaway Keyboard sold by the bucketload and was quite superb, but it didn't have a dedicated row of keys for the numbers, which was quite annoying. The Sierra Keyboard does, and it also runs for a promised 80 hours continuous typing and supports over 600 Bluetooth devices. It's a little larger, naturally, but folds up to roughly the same size as your typical Pocket PC.

TOP ESSENTIAL 11

UBiQUIO BT Keyboard for Skype £69.95
www.expansys.com

Aimed at heavy VoIP users, this keyboard includes shortcut buttons for just about every single function on the Skype app. Works with any Pocket PC, although ironically you would still need a headset to make your voice calls.